Matt Reardon

28 years - Free Skier - USA

Matt is a professional free skier from the USA. He is a freeskier by trade, and his multitudes of additional, and diverse talents, increasingly present him as a unique global commodity.

Matt is a resident of Chamonix, France the birthplace of extreme alpine sports.

Having performed as a professional athlete for the last ten years, Matt travels to various locations around the globe, keeping his passion alive whilst attacking almost every major mountain range in the world.

His zest for living life, and dedication to perform at the highest level, is what puts Matt apart from the norm.

An international profile, supported with a hard working ethic devoted to promoting his sponsors and sport provides all commercial partners with innovation and comprehensive media coverage.

From X games competitions to major expeditions, recording a solo CD, high fashion photo shoots and performing live for crowds of over 10,000 people.

Matt is ready to take on the world!
